ALPHA INSIDER CLUB · EUROPEAN DIRECTORS' DEALINGS

When several directors buy, pay attention.

Automated screening of legally published directors' dealings from seven European markets – filtered, scored and delivered as clear Platinum Alerts to our Telegram group.

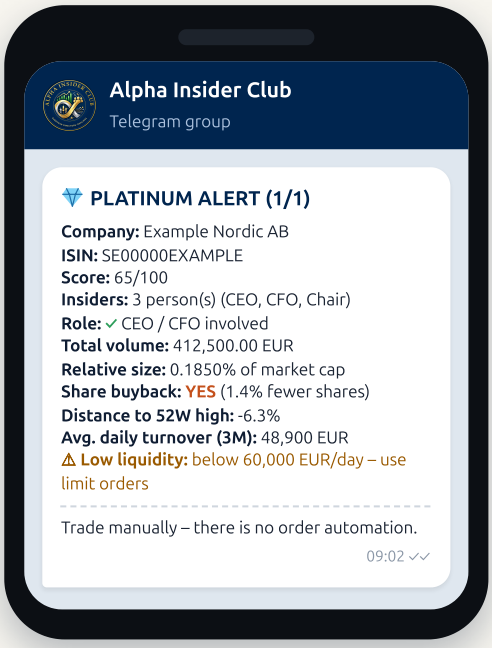

Germany · Netherlands · Norway · Sweden · United Kingdom · France · Italy

Why insider clusters?

Every day, mandatory filings disclose share purchases by CEOs, CFOs and board members – scattered across regulator portals, PDFs and languages. A single director buying can be routine. But when two or more insiders of the same company buy within 14 days, the message is much stronger: the people who know the business best are putting their own money in.

Insider-trading research (Cohen, Malloy & Pomorski, Journal of Finance, 2012) finds opportunistic insider purchases the most informative – we apply this to small and mid caps.

> Legal and public. We only use notifications that EU/UK market-abuse rules require insiders to publish (MAR Art. 19). Research findings describe the past – they are not a promise for this service.

Illustrative example with a fictitious company. Real alerts contain live data.

How it works

1 Collect
Hourly from regulators and official news services in seven countries.

2 Filter & score
Several insiders, size vs. market cap, CEO/CFO, buybacks, price not far below the 52-week high. Options and duplicates removed.

3 Alert
One clear Platinum Alert in Telegram, typically within an hour of publication.

What you get

- ✓ Seven markets, small and mid caps
- ✓ Key figures in every alert
- ✓ Exit notices: trailing stop & time limit
- ✓ One alert type – no noise, no tiers
- ✓ Liquidity warning for thin stocks
- ✓ No automated trading – you decide

> Honest status: pilot phase. We keep measuring what happens to the share price after every alert and make no promises about results.
